CUPID BREAKS WITH GOV.
FREAR

Reiterates Statement That the Chief Executive of Territory Lied to Him.

MEANS SPLIT IN THE PARTY

Delegate Says Plantations Can Get What They Want, but People Get Nothing.

Delegate Kuhio has definitely and finally broken with the Republican party—or at least, that part of the Republican party which includes Governor Frear. He announced last night that he had split with the Chief Executive who, by virtue of his position, at least, is the chief Republican of the Territory—and that he is willing to leave the issue to the voters.

Cupid goes farther; he reiterates the statement he made recently at a public meeting at Waiohina—that the Governor has lied. "He lied to the people there," says Cupid, "and he lied to me."

"I suppose Governor Frear will get out of the lie somehow. He can always do that, you know. He'll find some way to get around it. But he did not tell the truth to the people at Waiohina. He lied to them and he made me lie to them."

"I myself heard the Governor in a speech at Waiohina promise the people that the Kamao lands would be opened up to homesteaders within three months. He said the lands would be thrown open by last January. And I supposed that had been done. I never knew that the lands had not been opened up, until I got to Waiohina and they told me about it. That put me in a bad position with the people there, for I, relying on the statement of the Governor, had promised them that the lands should be opened up. Governor Frear made me lie. The people don't like that, and I don't like it."

"The plantations can get anything they want from Governor Frear; the people can't get anything. That's the kind of a man Governor Frear is."

"Yes, I suppose my remarks about the Governor do amount to a split in the Republican party. They certainly amount to a split between the Governor and myself. But I am willing to rely on the voters at the polls. The people don't like such treatment as they have had from Governor Frear."

Deliberate Statements.
The Delegate made his statement calmly and deliberately and has evidently made up his mind as to his future political course. He is apparently willing to accept the issue raised by his own attitude toward the Chief Executive and leave it to the voters to decide. How they will decide as between Prince Cupid and the other Republican leaders only the result of the next political campaign can tell.

PROMINENT HAWAIIANS AT CAPITAL

By Ernest G. Walker.

WASHINGTON, November 28.—Several prominent Hawaiians are expected in town this week. According to present advices, Governor Frear will be here in a few days to take up official matters with congressional committees and the various departments. He will call at the White House, also, and it is hoped here that he will have an opportunity to tell the President about conditions in the Islands. Atty.-Gen. C. F. Hemenway and Atty. D. L. Withington are expected by tomorrow (Monday) to argue cases before the Supreme Court.

Judge Hatch, accompanied by Mrs. Hatch and Miss Hatch, has just arrived for the winter. They are at the Willard Hotel for the time being, and are looking for apartments.

The land bill, enacted by the legislature in extra session, has been received here. It will be introduced in the house on the opening day of the session, one week from tomorrow. It is understood here that Delegate Kaulanahou will not reach Washington till about December 14 or 15, one week after the session begins.

Governor Frear's report has been received at the department of the interior, but is not yet ready for publication. The corrections, which Governor Frear was asked to make, have been put into the document, and probably the completed report will be released within a few days.

MAKURA PLANT
BEING TRIED OUT

United Wireless System Installed as an Experiment—Is Working Well.

The result of the test being made with the wireless plant aboard the Royal Mail S. S. Makura will determine whether or not the United Wireless Company will succeed in getting the contract to install plants on all the vessels running between Vancouver and the Colonies. The plant aboard the Makura is the most powerful in the Pacific, being a five-kilowatt outfit, while that aboard the Korea is a four-kilowatt. Operator Mulrooney talked with Vancouver 1400 miles out and talked with Kahuku at 1300 miles. He expects to do even better on the way back from the Colonies and will keep up communication as long as possible on the way down to Suva.

The wireless plant on the Makura is installed for permanency, if the tests come out all right, but if the company records a failure to do the best stunts in talking then it will be removed. Operator Mulrooney, however, is confident that the plant will do all that is desired. Should the United get the contract to supply all the steamships it will mean also that the company may install plants on the Australian and New Zealand coasts. At present there are no wireless stations in the Colonies of any consequence, but a law was recently passed which requires that all steamships carrying passengers shall be equipped with wireless. This is doubtless the result of the mysterious loss of the steamship Waratah, which disappeared overnight with two hundred people aboard about five months ago. Had there been wireless aboard a different story might have been told of her disappearance.

Operator Mulrooney expects to pick up the wireless station at Guam and also to get in touch with the Korea, which left Yokohama on Friday for Honolulu. On going further south he will endeavor to get in touch with British warships lying or cruising in Australian waters.

The Makura's wireless plant is located aboard in the same manner as that on the Korea. They have auxiliary storage batteries so that if the engines are put out of commission by water the storage batteries will enable the operator to send out his calls for assistance.

ENDORSEMENTS ARE SENT TO GOVERNOR

Secretary and Acting-Governor E. A. Mott-Smith has forwarded to Governor Frear the bar association's endorsement of Judge Robinson for reappointment of the position on the bench now occupied by the judge, and of Judge J. T. De Bolt for appointment to the supreme bench.

"I did not forward the endorsement of the bar association of A. G. M. Robertson for the position of second federal judge," said Mr. Mott-Smith, "for the very good reason that it was not sent up to me by the bar association. It has probably been sent direct to the Governor by the association."

"I also forwarded to Governor Frear the resolution adopted Friday at the mass meeting, advocating the suspension of the coastwise shipping laws."

Estrada Appeals for Help, and
U. S. Marines and Guns
Are Landed.

(By Associated Press.)
BLUEFIELDS, Nicaragua, December 11.—The conference held yesterday between General Estrada and the envoys of President Zelaya, has been discovered to have been simply a blind, covering a movement of Zelaya's troops against Bluefields. It is stated that Zelaya's force at Greytown is sufficient to crush the insurgents who are now besieging the city.

Estrada Asks Help.
General Estrada, leader of the revolutionary forces, has become much alarmed over the reported advance of President Zelaya.

He has asked for the landing of the marines from the U. S. cruiser Des Moines, and it is believed that he desires active intervention of the American troops in his behalf.

Troops Landed.
A force of marines and five machine guns have been landed from the Des Moines and are awaiting orders, ready to act at a moment's notice.

CHAMPION TENNIS PLAYER MAY BECOME A LIEUTENANT

A decision just reached by the war and navy departments will, in all probability, have considerable weight with the bill now pending before congress placing paymasters' clerks on a basis of assistant paymasters with increased pay and commutation of quarters, and will effect Edwin S. Gee, clerk to Maj. B. B. Ray, army paymaster, and James Dunn, clerk to Paymaster Hornberger, U.S.N. The decision is as follows:

"The civil service commission has before it opinions of the attorney-general to the effect that paymasters' clerks of the army and navy are officers of the United States within the constitutional meaning of that term; and that they are officers in the regular service within the meaning of acts of congress respecting retirement, which view the attorney-general bases upon the practical construction which has been given to the statutes by the war and navy departments and the comptroller, the recognition by congress, and the decisions of the Supreme Court. Navy pay clerks on sea duty and army paymasters' clerks on duty with paymasters hold exempted positions under the existing civil service rules, and the commission has under consideration the necessity of amending those rules so as to place all army and navy paymasters' clerks outside the classified civil service."

The army paymasters' clerks may rank as first lieutenants.

PREVENTION IS BETTER THAN CURE

An Evening With Fennell Is an Object Lesson on How Law Is Enforced.

Walking the streets at night with License Inspector W. P. Fennell is not all roses for in the commendable occupation of keeping the town as sober as possible, Fennell manages to cover a respectable distance every evening. For instance, last night he took a little jaunt around the center of town and managed to scare at least a half-dozen possible infringers of the law out of a seven years' growth.

On the waterfront he had an opportunity of turning his lamp on a gentleman of the docks who was sousing to the skin who earnestly pleaded to be arrested. Fennell, however, tempers a secluded corner where he could sleep justice with mercy and steered him to it off.

Going up a back alley behind Ozaki's store he had some hopes of securing a bunch of surreptitious booze-fighters, who sometimes hang out there, but as Ozaki has been fined lately for selling imitation whisky he is not particularly anxious to get outside lawful bounds.

On Nuuanu avenue Fennell tumbled into an alley two feet wide and began to wend his way among numerous hidden tenements foul with opium smoke and with the Chinese language so thick in the air that you could cut it with a knife. A perfunctory exploration of the buildings resulted in the discovery of no offenders and emerging on Hotel street he began to look for blindpigs.

Fennell has got so that he looks for blindpigs in his sleep and if there were any there he would find them. To show how easy it is he walked into a supposed restaurant across the street and took a bottle of beer away from a customer who had just placed himself outside of its contents. As he had seen no money passed he couldn't make any arrests but scared the proprietor much.

Further exploration showed twelve bottles that had just been emptied and a fine bottle of choice wine. A warning was dispensed to the apologetic proprietor and he was left to his own devices.

In another saloon, Fennell found a young Hawaiian who jumped a foot when he saw the inspector enter and then swore stoutly that he was twenty years old. Later he decided that he was twenty-one for there is nothing like being on the safe side.

Fennell asked a few questions (the boy didn't look seventeen), and finally ordered him out. No minors patronize the saloons if Fennell knows it. Other saloons and wholesale places were visited and the goods and their labels examined and then Fennell went to the station to keep an appointment and his tour was done.

Obvious results, none. Obvious results, the town firmly convinced that there was a man-sized inspector in town added to in more places at the same time than any other person of his inches and it was therefore wise to keep as close as possible to obedience of the law.

UNION LINE
PLANS CHANGE

New Zealand Lines May Be Put Into a San Francisco
Mail Service.

NORTHERN LINE TO CONTINUE

Honolulu Will Benefit if Laws
Are Suspended—If Not,
Will Lose.

The Union Steamship Company of New Zealand, whose liners now touch here to and from Vancouver, are considering a plan whereby their fleet is to be divided, the newest and fastest vessels to be put on a run with San Francisco as their American terminus and the older vessels to be kept on the Vancouver run with Seattle as a port of call.

If the coastwise laws be suspended this will give Honolulu another tourist line from San Francisco and an altogether new line from Seattle. If the laws are not suspended it may mean that the San Francisco boats will cut this port out altogether, while the boats running to Seattle can not land Honolulu passengers there but must take them through to the Canadian port and let them come back to Seattle on the return trip.

If the laws are suspended to allow the British boats to bring and carry away passengers, Honolulu stands to profit greatly with the change; if the Little Honoluluans are able to block the suspension, the city will lose in both ways.

It is not the Honolulu trade that the Canadian-Australian boats are after primarily, but the mail carrying business between New Zealand and the Coast, a movement in New Zealand favoring sending the London mails via San Francisco owing to the saving in time which might thus be effected.

The New Zealand government is anxious to reorganize the Colonial-San Francisco mail service which was in operation before the Oceanic Steamship Company withdrew its three liners—Ventura, Sierra and Sonoma—from that run. Since the suspension of this steamer service the train time from San Francisco to New York has been shortened one day by means of a fast daily train which now connects the two great American ports. This makes a gain of practically two days which the New Zealand government finds itself debarred from using.

The New Zealand government appreciates the fact that San Francisco is the real gateway to the American continent, particularly since its rebuilding has been accomplished, making it a greater city than ever. San Francisco, therefore, is the natural terminus of the trunk railroad lines of the United States, and the moment the New Zealand and Australian mails reach it they are on a route which must always be the fastest and most progressive of any in the world. The New Zealand people believe that the present roundabout way of getting the mails to London (Continued on Page Five.)

HAWAIIAN, WHO COULD NOT SWIM, DROWNS

HILO, December 7.—A young Hawaiian from Waiakae, who went by the name of Kaiama-lili, owing to his relationship to the late Police Officer Kaiama, was drowned off Ooakala last week while in the pursuit of his work as a sailor on board the steamer Kanui.

The steamer arrived off Ooakala early in the morning, and a boat was sent out, Kaiama-lili being a member of its crew. It appears that the men were frightened at a great comb which reared itself up behind them, and, fearing that the boat would be overturned by it, the word was given to jump. All the men, with the exception of one, jumped into the water, but the boat weathered the wave in good shape, and all the sailors swam back to her, except Kaiama-lili. This unfortunate man could not swim, and he sank the moment he struck the water, and was not seen again. His trousers were seen floating on the surface a short time afterwards, indicating that he had tried to free himself from his clothing as he sank.

The parents of the deceased live at Waiakae. Kaiama-lili was a widower. He leaves a daughter to mourn his loss.

CENSUS SUPERVISORS
LECTURED BY PRESIDENT

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, December 12.—President Taft, in addressing the census supervisors appointed to take the 1910 census, warned them that removal from office will follow any attempt on their part to do politics.

This is a "Roosevelt policy" which the President is continuing. The former President set his face squarely against mixing the business of the country and partisan politics, dismissing several high officials for working for his re-nomination for the presidency.

BLACK HANDS HAVE

SAN FRANCISCO, December 12.—The man who robbed two drugstores and killed the bookkeeper of the Hamman baths last Saturday night, robbed one of the same drugstores again last night while Market street was crowded. The entire police force of the city has been ordered out to search for him and many of the drugstores are being guarded to prevent a repetition of the first robbery.
